

If We Knew

If we knew we would yearn, to do the best we can

With each passing moment, know that each of life's offerings to be earned

If we knew

If we knew at each turn, what each step would bring

We would prize the soft whispers, of the ones who would wish us only good

If we knew

If we knew from the start how it was, we would realise, that nothing is lost

And I believe we'd strive, whatever the cost, and I believe

One by one, we'll come home, be together

One by one, we'll come home, where we'll stay

There's a star in the dark waiting for us

There's a rose at the close of the day

If we knew what we'll learn, at the long journey's end

We would make different choices, heed different voices from those we do

If we knew

And if we knew when it's through, we'll stare at the truth

It will all come before us, to haunt or reward us – the things we do

If we knew

If we knew we're never alone

No matter where we are, or how far we go

There's always one who cares, who's near every soul

If we only knew

One by one, we'll come home, be together

One by one, we'll come home, where we'll stay

There's a star in the dark waiting for us

One by one we'll come home, be together

One by one, we'll come home, where we'll stay

There's a star in the dark waiting for us
